

BULLDOG BITES

November 23, 2020

Welcome to the fifth edition of the 2020-2021 Bulldog Bites! This is our Thanksgiving Edition and we want to take time to thank all those who make Bridgeport Schools great! We thank our students, families, staff, and community for their continued support and dedication. It takes all of us to make our schools remarkable! Thank you and may you and your family have a safe and happy Thanksgiving!

Elementary

The ECOESC recently had its annual Reading Festival and at its conclusion sent home a box of 67 books. These were shared with some very happy second graders.

Elementary

Miss Schambach's science class worked in groups to illustrate different habitats. Students studied forests, rainforests, and the Arctic.

Miss Schambach's Class recently used hula hoops to make Venn Diagrams to compare and contrast.

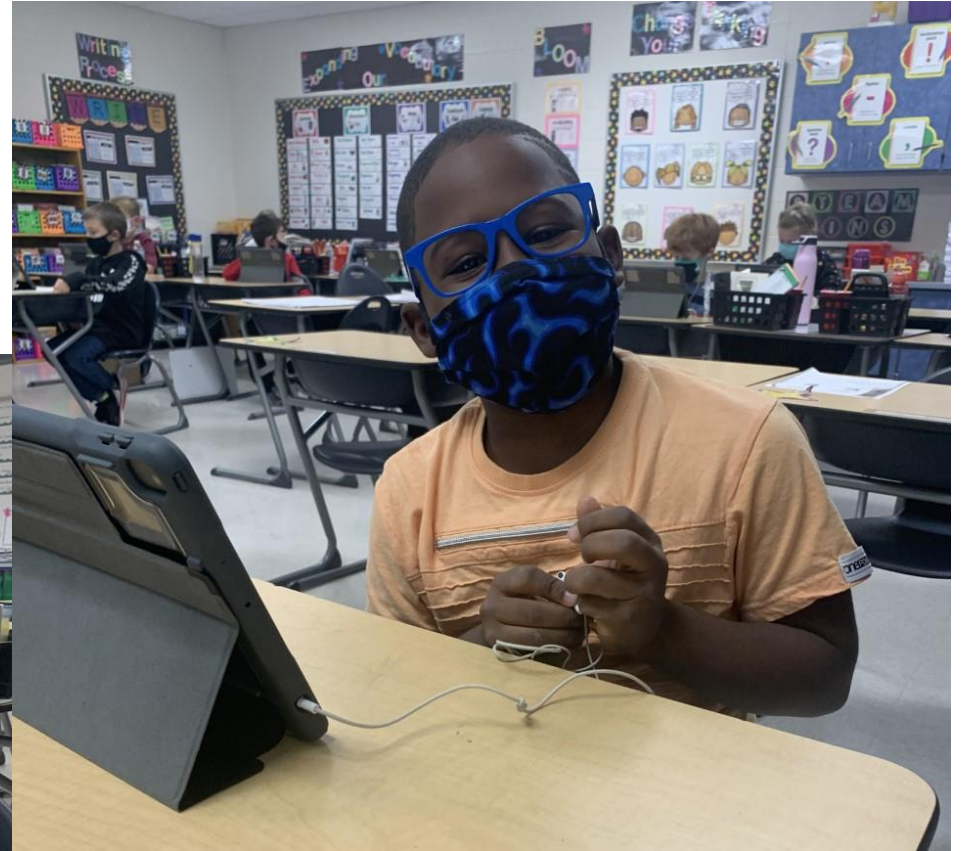

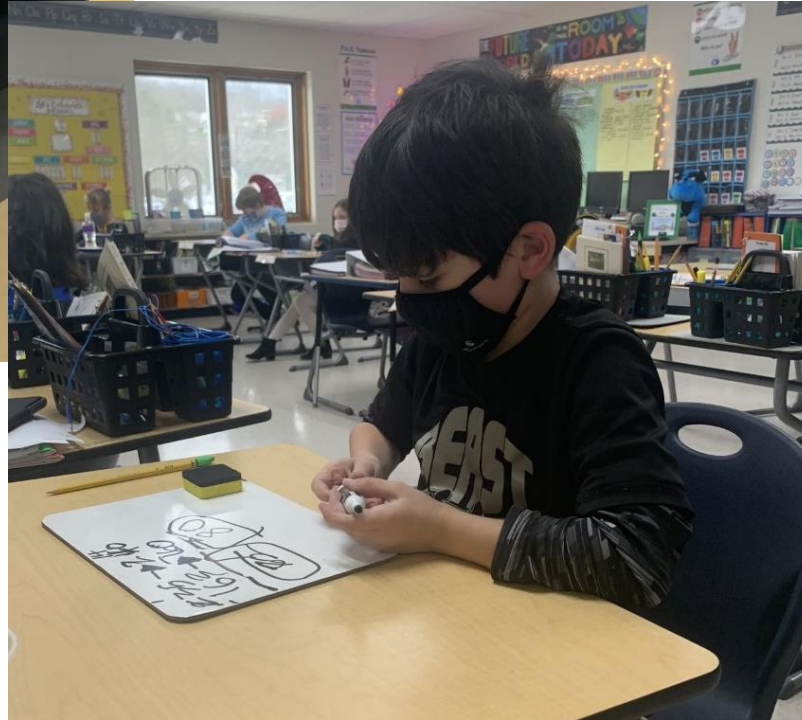

Elementary

Mr. Wukeson's kindergarten and first grade art classes recently created fall and holiday masterpieces.

Third graders Cassidy, Zander, and Dionte enjoyed interactive lessons using iPads and dry-erase boards.

Elementary

Middle School

Fifth and eighth grade students recently took part in the one mile Turkey Trot. The event was part of Mr. Tush's and Mr. Winland's class.

Middle School

Doing their part to keep their building beautiful, eighth graders recently helped pick up litter around the school.

Middle School

Thanks to a recent donation from the Pittsburgh Pirates' Clubhouse Manager, each seventh grader was given a new water bottle.

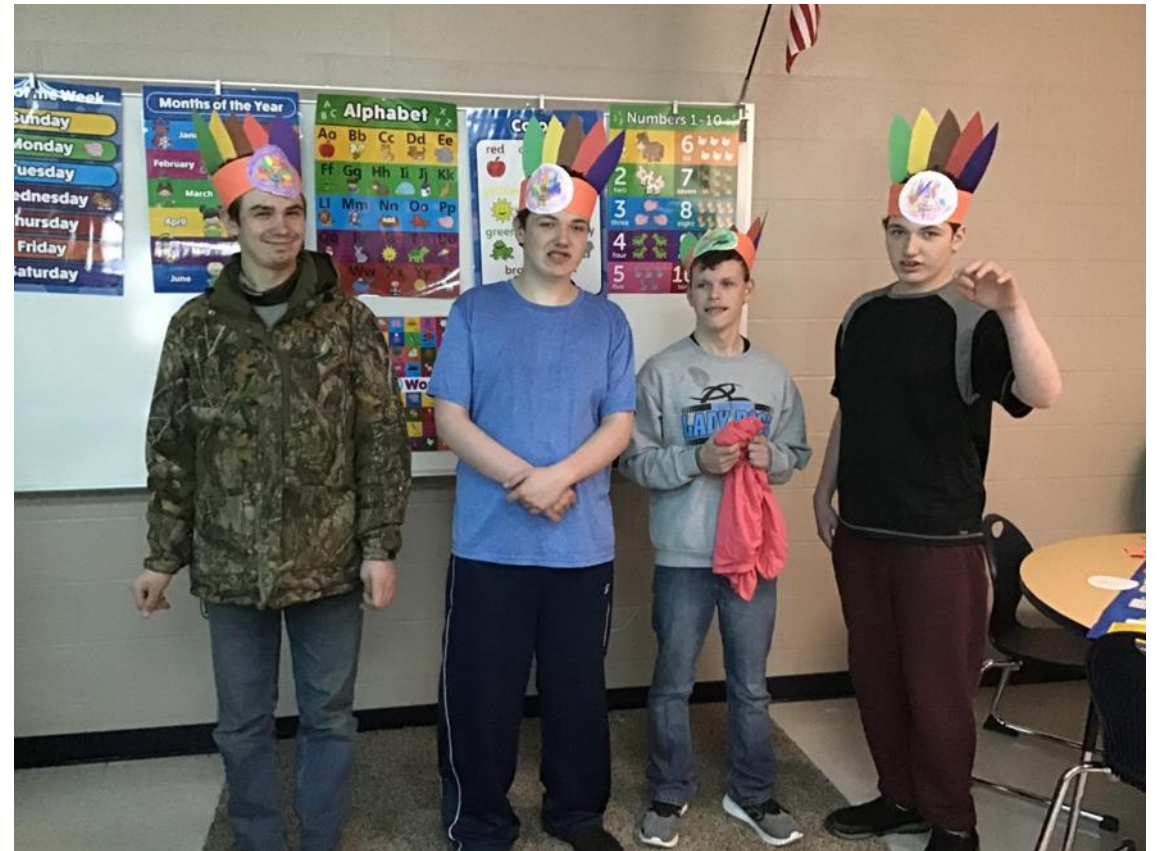

High School

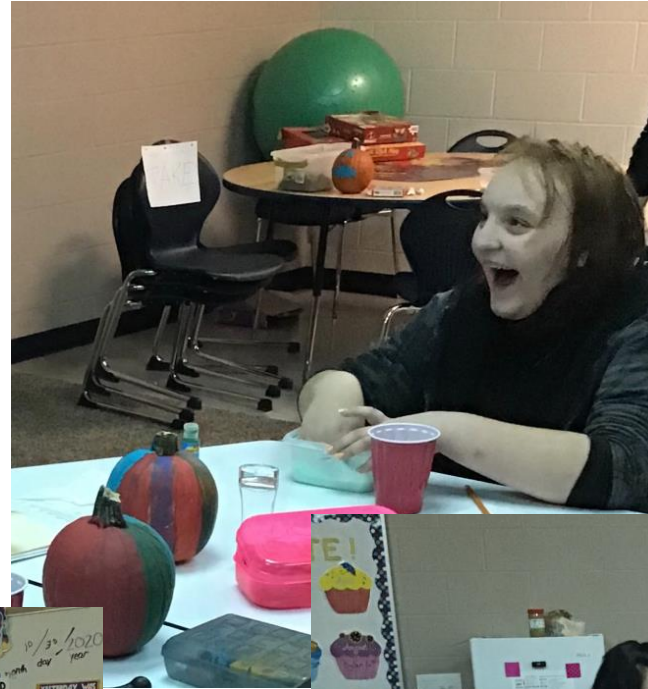

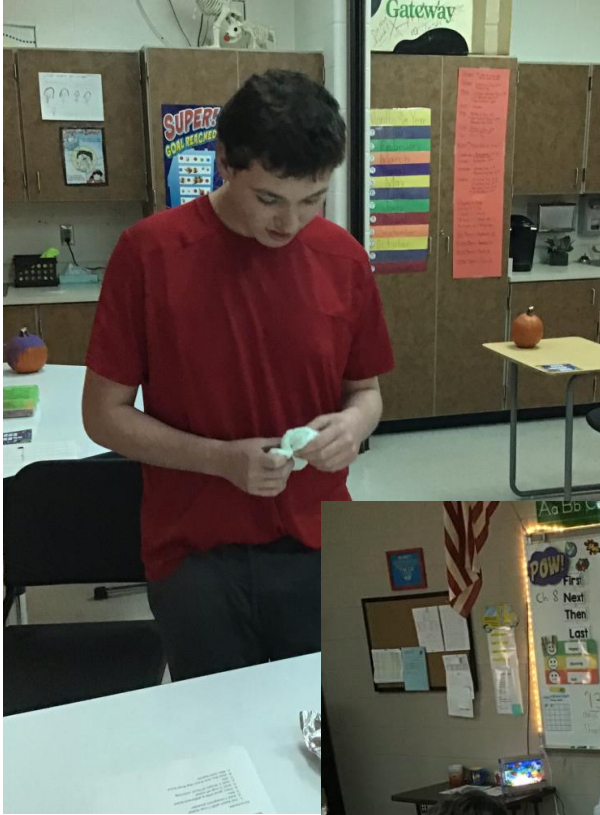

High school student Kaylee shows off this year's painted snow plow. Each year the Ohio Department of Transportation sends Bridgeport Schools a snow plow and ask students to paint it for their annual Paint the Plow Program. The theme she selected in Applied Arts was "Hippie Frog." Be on the look out this winter for this frog clearing the road!

Students in Ms. Vincenzo's class got into the spirit of Thanksgiving by creating and wearing some holiday crafts.

High School

Students in Ms. Vincenzo's class learned about solids and liquids and then made their own sensory slime.

High School

Students of the Month

Congratulations to high school students Joey, Campbell, Sarah, and Heather.
